Our Guides

Icelandic Mountain Guides is proud to be an award winning as well as a leading company for staff training in Icelandic tourism. We have over 17 years of experience in educating, entertaining and assuring the safety of our guests. This applies to the Greenland Icecap, the summit of Antarctica and everywhere in between. The pinnacle of our educational program is the 27 days of direct training and exams our glacier guides go through from the time they are hired until they achieve the requirements for an IMG Mountain Guide. The award winning training program is based on safety and training standards from New Zealand. In addition to training courses, our guides work over 100 days under direct and indirect supervision and are required to advance to a certain standard in their personal mountaineering. Most of our guides will have completed an eight-day Wilderness First Responder first aid course and have received advanced training from working with the elite units of the Icelandic rescue teams. With us you are not only in good hands, we believe you are in the best of hands.

See you on the glacier!

Hrútsfjallstindar Peaks IMG27

Level: Strenuous. Elevation: 1800 meters (5900 feet).
Distance: 22 km (14 miles). Duration: 14 - 16 hours.

Hrútsfjallstindar Peaks 1875 m.

Hrútsfjallstindar is the name of the impressive peaks dominating the skyline to the north of Svínafellsjökull glacier. There are four peaks and the highest one is 1875 m high (6150 '). For many years the peaks have challenged serious climbers and several climbing routes are already established. However a trip up to the Hrútsfjallstindar Peaks is on par with a trip to the summit of Hvannadalshnúkur. The hike is equally demanding and takes about 14-16 hours. The route offers magnificent scenery over the Öräfajökull massif as well as the Skaftafellsjökull and Svínafellsjökull glaciers. No special mountaineering skills are required but the hike can be physically demanding.

Hrútsfjallstindar

Hrútsfjallstindar heißen die Gipfel, nördlich des Svínafellsjökulls. Es sind vier Gipfel und der höchste ist 1875 m hoch. Die Besteigung dieser Gipfel entspricht dem Schwierigkeitsgrad des Hvannadalshnúkur: anspruchsvoll und dauert 14-16 Stunden. Die Aussicht ist herrlich über das Massif des Öräfagletschers und auf die Gletscherzungen des Skaftafellsjökulls und Svínafellsjökulls. Die Tour ist physisch herausfordernd.

Hrútsfjallstindar

Hrútsfjallstindar désigne le massif des 4 pics impressionnants culminant à 1875 m dominant le glacier Svínafellsjökull au nord. D'un niveau de difficulté équivalent à l'ascension du Hvannadalshnúkur (14 à 16 h de marche), l'itinéraire offre des vues magnifiques sur le massif de l'Öräfajökull, les glaciers Skaftafellsjökull et Svínafellsjökull. Bien que ne présentant pas de difficulté, est physiquement exigeant.
